For EACH placemat, you will need:
White or cream fabric for top of placemat-
17 1/2 x 9 1/2"

Green fabric for bottom- 17 1/2" x 5 1/2"

Green fabric for binding- about 1/4 yard

Backing fabric- 20 x 17"

Thin batting 19 x 16"

Scraps of assorted fabrics for egg

Ribbon, rick rack or other trim- 18" long
(about 1/2- 5/8" wide)

Fusible web for machine applique, such as Heat n Bond Lite

Thread for piecing, applique, topstitching ribbon, and quilting

Sew White and Green fabrics for placemat together along long edges. Place the ribbon or trim over the seam and pin in place (it will be a little long.) Topstitch the long edges of the ribbon in place, about 1/16-1/8" from the ribbon edge, with matching thread. Trim excess ribbon from edges of placemat.

Cut the scraps into strips, about 7" long and of varying widths (about 1"- 2 1/4" wide.) Sew the strips together along the long edges until you have a piece that is about 7 x 9" in size. Press the seams well.

Trace the Easter egg pattern onto the paper side of fusible web. Cut out shape, leaving about a 1/4" border. Place shape on WRONG side of your pieced fabric, with the paper side up and adhesive side down. Iron fusible web shape to fabric according to manufacturer's directions (make sure to iron both sides for maximum adhesion.) When cool, remove the paper backing.

Place Easter egg right side up on place mat. Iron in place. Machine applique the edges of the Easter egg.

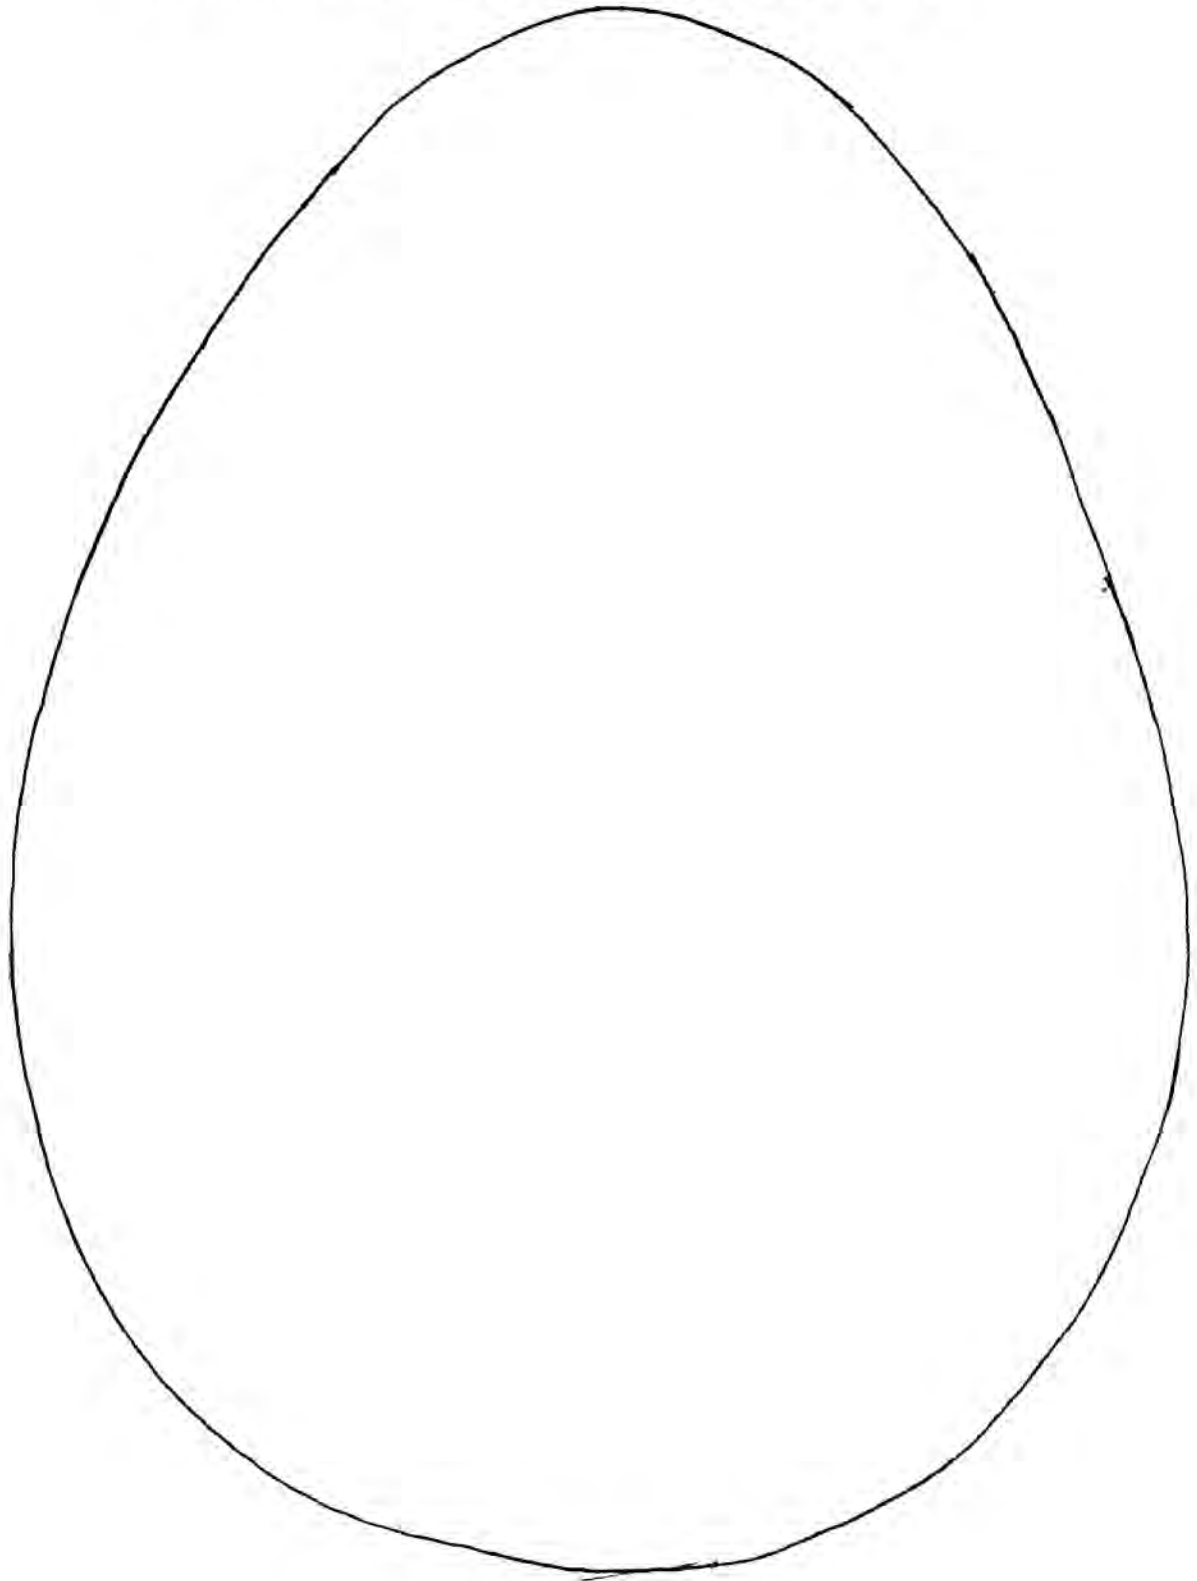

Layer the placemat, batting, and backing fabric together. Quilt as desired. For my placemat, I just did freemotion loops. Trim excess batting and backing fabric.

Bind with green fabric.
